

The Diversity That is India

- Sayan Maity

India, a jewel in the universe's light,

Where colors of culture shine ever bright.

Different religions, in harmony stay,

Different tongues with their own sweet sway.

Varied dresses, from silk to thread,

Different foods by which hearts are fed.

Farmers, scholars, workers, all,

Answer together the nation's call.

Different thoughts, yet values unite,

A single soul in the world's wide sight.

Through mountains high and rivers wide,

Our dreams of peace and pride abide.

"Peaceful India"—our guiding flame,

To make her great, our common aim.

Hand in hand, through every tide,

In unity, we take our stride.

This is our strength, our shining idea—

Unity in diversity, that is India.
