

Our Incredible India

Indian culture is the most ancient culture in the world.
Each and every culture in India is beautifully pearled.
Our India is diverse and is home to several communities.
Each of whom has their own culture, traditions and divinities.

India is a combination of various splendid cultures.
Which makes India a nation of wonders.
Indian cultural diversity is what makes India exceptionally beautiful.
India in its own way is very special and indisputable.

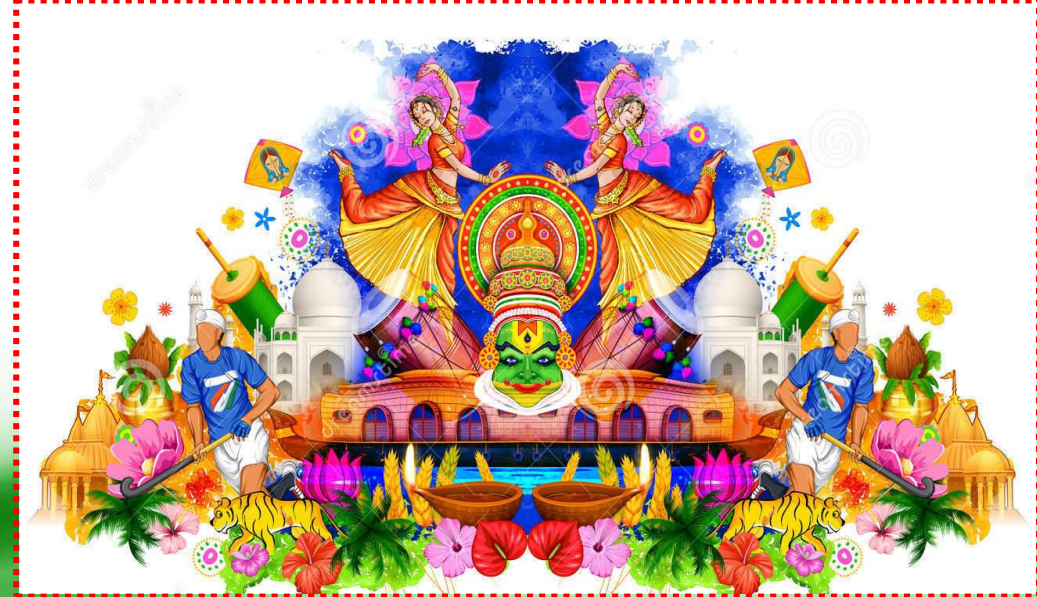

India's land is also blessed with cultural architecture.
Which is occasionally inspired by Greek culture.
India's architecture spans from ancient caves to skyscraper bionics.
It is also classified by the Dravidian and Nagara Architectonics.

Diversity in Indian clothing has its own aesthetic beauty.
To maintain its value is every Indian's duty.
It started from ancient people and will remain forever.
Everyone wears it equally with great pleasure.

In India, religious beliefs are distinguished by diversity.
Every religion is given opportunity and equality.
Each state has its own religion and language.
We can say India is a language package.

At last I just want to say,
In the race of fashion we are running today,
Is taking us away from our culture and traditions.
We must increase our Indian cultural diversity's recognition.

Thank you
