

Ashpreet kaur

“ Can women be in combat roles ?? ”

So, the question here is “ can women be in combat roles?? ” . You must be thinking what’s this question means?. Basically women in combat are female military personnel assigned to combat positions. So , yes women can be in combat roles . In this modern world a women can do anything. Today a women is a teacher , a doctor, a pilot , an engineer , a politician and many more because a women is capable of doing everything a men can do.

Although women are giving their best in almost every field. But I don’t know why can’t we accept women in combat roles? Why we think that they are not enough strong to play a combat role? Remember, a women takes 57 Dell of pain while giving birth to a baby. This pain is equal to 20 bones getting fractured at a time . Where a normal human body can only take 45 Dell of pain . This shows how strong a women is .

If a soldier is strong and powerful then think how strong would be the person who gives birth to him . First Guru of Sikhs Shri Guru Nanak Dev Ji said-

“ So kyon manda aakhiye jitt jameh raajan ”

This means why call a women bad ? From her kings are born . Now coming back to the point. A women can be a military officer. Even countries like Canada , Britain , Germany , France etc. are appointing women in combat roles. So why can’t we accept are mothers and daughters to play a role of an army officer. Believe me they just need a chance to prove themselves. And if they will get a chance I’m damn sure they will take the nation to new heights. I salute to all those parents who are encouraging their daughters.

“Womens are not only to wear Pearls and sensible shoes to work.

They can even handle weapons and wear combat boots ”

